Orbit 7.01ct Cushion Cut Diamond Brooch (71)

Inspired by the form and symmetry of the planets, Jessica McCormack's 30-piece Orbit collection is a tribute to celestial balance. Designed to be layered with classic Jessica McCormack pieces, the collection was imagined 'in orbit' around the wearer's body.

Orbit pays tribute to the Victorian fascination with stargazing, a period marked by significant celestial events, including the discovery of Neptune in 1846, which brought cosmic motifs to the forefront of jewellery design, fashion, and home décor of the time. Incorporating the 19th century jewellery-making techniques synonymous with Jessica McCormack designs, including cut-down settings and blackened gold, Orbit plays with spherical shapes and astronomical themes to juxtapose antique traditions and Jessica's irreverent approach to luxury.

Recalling a Victorian compass rose, the Orbit Yellow Gold & 7.01ct Cushion cut Diamond Brooch features alternating spires and sunbeams flaring from a 7.01ct diamond and exemplifies the collection's bringing together of classic craftsmanship and modern design.

"Orbit is about gravity - the pieces are designed to sit within the wearer's orbit, drawn naturally to them rather than demanding attention."

- Jessica

Necklaces

Revolving around spheres and rounded shapes, Orbit's necklace collection fuses colourful gemstones with brilliant diamonds and precious metals. Arranged to recall the solar system, the Orbit Planetary Necklace alone features a 7.92ct Columbian emerald bead, a 10mm golden South Sea pearl, a 16.21ct Burmese lilac jade bead, a 3.70ct Round Brilliant cut diamond, an 18.96ct Melo pearl bead, a 13.26ct star sapphire bead, an 'Angel Skin' pink coral bead, and a 12mm Australian white pearl. Meanwhile, the Diamond Stargazer Necklace features a constellation of eight Round Brilliant cut diamonds, totalling over 30 carats, with the individual stones ranging between 1.70 to 8.02 carats.

Incorporating Jessica McCormack's signature Georgian and Victorian jewellery-making techniques, necklaces from the Orbit collection are crafted to balance tradition and modernity. Daring and characterful, they can be worn alone or layered to create a bespoke constellation for their wearer.

Pendants

Featuring a curated selection of precious stones, the spherical shape of pendants in the Orbit collection recalls the planets populating our universe. Designed to be daring, to catch the light and the eye, the pendants are fitted with swivel clasps so they can be easily added to a Ball n Chain, Belcher, or Beaches Pearl necklace.

The range of pendants are an ode to the stars and the space between them, whether adorned with random pavé diamonds set against blackened gold or a constellation of diamond-studded stars upon a gold backdrop. An instant heirloom, the Orbit Locket pays tribute to Victorian tradition, by opening to reveal six spaces to store tiny keepsakes and pictures.

Chains

The genesis of Orbit, Ball n Chain reflects the harmony of planetary alignment. Threading lengths of blackened gold links through 18K yellow gold orbs, this classic Jessica McCormack necklace is effortlessly chic or unflinchingly rebellious; it is up to the wearer to decide.

Crafted to be worn alone, layered with necklaces of varying lengths or paired with matching Ball n Chain pendants, this Jessica McCormack signature piece is an endlessly customisable staple. Its name, a light-hearted reference to the slang used to refer to a romantic partner, belies the creative freedom it offers to play and experiment, and to celebrate craftsmanship while adapting its design to one's own taste.

An amalgamation of two signature Jessica McCormack designs, the new Orbit Belcher Ball n Chain beats a soft rhythm, making it an ideal option for layering and pairing with pendants from the core and Orbit collections.

Earrings

Orbit Gypset Earrings walk the line between sophisticated elegance and nonchalance. Defined by sculptural spheres, they can be worn alone, stacked along the ear, or paired with signature diamond Gypset styles. Available as single earrings in two designs, they invite the possibility of beautiful and bespoke combinations.

Diamonds play the role of satellites circling the golden orbs, while lilac jade adds a touch of colour and brilliance to their bold design. The Orbit Asymmetric Yellow Gold Sphere 4.17ct and 1.50ct Diamond Earrings play with proportion and quirky asymmetry, while, in a nod to planetary rings, the Orbit 3.33ct Carré cut Diamond and Pearl Earrings feature diamond and gold ellipses orbiting pearls.

Bracelets

The Orbit Bracelet collection pays tribute to celestial bodies tracing their predestined paths. Across an exquisite array of bracelets, bangles, and arm bangles, each piece immortalises a moment of movement, capturing time and space in precious metals and gemstones. Within the collection, the Orbit Yellow Gold and 5.34ct Pavé Diamond Sphere Bracelet and the Orbit Yellow Gold and 0.50ct Diamond Sphere Bracelet embody this planetary kinetic energy.

Amongst the Orbit collection, Jessica McCormack debuts two arm bangle styles, whether adorned with a 1.22ct Oval cut diamond or a 1.21ct Pear-Shaped diamond set in the signature blackened gold Georgian cut-down setting, both embodying a perfect harmony of timeless elegance and contemporary sensibility.

Layered with a Signature Button Back Bracelet or a Forget Me Knot Bangle, these bracelets speak to the beauty of time captured, whether that be the billions of years required to form a diamond or a relationship commemorated in jewellery.

Rings

Mirroring the trajectory of satellites around planets, Jessica McCormack's Orbit ring collection sees settings form infinite elliptical loops around central gemstones. The Orbit 1.47ct Carré cut Diamond and 3.43ct Sapphire Ring features a host of diamonds orbiting a cut-down set sapphire, while the Orbit Golden South Sea Pearl Ring is a swirl of yellow gold around a sizeable central pearl.

The Orbit Yellow Gold and 1.55ct Carré cut Diamond Band offers a new Jessica McCormack band design. With structural edges, the ring can be styled solo or stacked with signatures, such as a classic Button Back Ring or Diamond Eternity Band.

At the heart of Jessica McCormack's ring collection is a desire to reinterpret Georgian and Victorian craftsmanship for today, most evident in Round Brilliant cut diamond rings that pair characterful stones with antique-inspired settings refined by modern design.

I .

The outermost sphere holds the stars.

Its motion is circular and without end.

What moves without end is thihier born nor destroyed.

Such motion belongs only to what is celestial.

II.

Within it move the sun, the moon, and the planets.

Each follows its own path.

Their motion is not chance, but order,

measured witsin a greater harmony.

III.

What moves in circles has no opposite.

Without contraries, this body cannot be generated or destroyed.

It remains eternal, changeless, unaging.
